Objective

It is the objective of F2 Logistics to ensure that employee induction is dealt with in an organized and consistent manner, to enable staff to be introduced into a different post and working environment quickly, so that they can contribute effectively as soon as possible. This induction policy, associated with schedules per business unit and subject matter experts to set out. It is expected that all leaders and staff shall adhere to this policy.

Induction Program

The HR-in-charge should work with the department head to set up the new employee's job orientation as soon as possible within the first week of being hired. Job induction should be conducted every third week on a monthly basis to cover newly hired personnel who were on-boarded on the 1st and/or 16th of the month

The job induction program may include discussions of:

- 1. Introduction to F2 Logistics, including details about the company's mission, vision, values and quality policy.
- 2. Code of conduct / ethics / public interest disclosure;
- 3. The various departmental standards and procedures
- 4. The core duties and responsibilities of the position, based on the job description, etc.

Using the job induction training attendance in RISA, the supervisor/department head in cooperation with the HR department will ensure that all essential information is communicated to the employee in an appropriate manner and within an appropriate time frame.
