Focus on Cha Cruz, Paneng Mercado as F2 Logistics debuts in Super Liga Invitational

From: The wires • February 15, 2016, 01:07 pm

"Cha is playing like a true leader. We're still in the process of developing our chemistry and fluidity, but Cha is making the transition very smooth. She is our leader inside and outside the court."

Although recently assembled, the Cargo Movers are expected to give league heavyweights such as Foton, Petron, Army and Cignal a run for their money.

"We want to be very competitive while having fun at the same time," said F2 Logistics Philippines, Inc. president Efren Uy.

"The PSL is a very tough league. All the country's best players are here. Since we are a new team, we are tempering our expectations. We just want to play competitive volleyball knowing that victories will soon follow. We just have to enjoy the moment and take it one game at a time," Uy added.

F2 Logistics clobbered Petron Sorint 4T, 21-7, 21-16, in Pool B of the Philippine SuperLiga Beach Volleyball Challenge Cup on Saturday at the Sands SM By The Bay.

The tandem of Aby Marañón and last year's champion Danika Gendrauli executed a game plan to perfection against Maica Morada and Ces Molina despite having only a week to prepare for the tournament.

Marañón, who admitted that she felt pressure not to disappoint Gendrauli, actually impressed the veteran beach volleyball player.

"Maganda 'yung nilaro namin, nag-click ang service namin tapos konting errors lang nagawa namin," said Gendrauli, who teamed up with Norie Jane Diaz to lead Giligan's to last year's title.

"Sinabi ko sa kaya na, dapat 'wag ka mahihiya sa akin kasi palagi niya sinasabi sa akin na nape-pressure daw siya kasi defending champion ako. Sabi ko sa kanya, 'Wag ming iisipin na ganoon kasi ako hindi ako nag-iisip na defending champion ako kasi ibang laro na naman ito,'" added Gendrauli.

F2 Logistics leaned on drop balls, strong serves and 1-2 combination play to seal the victory.

Aby Marañón blended well with beach volleyball specialist Danika Gendrauli for a winning start by F2 Logistics in the PSL Beach Volleyball Challenge. Dante Peralta

F2 Logistics claim first PSL All-Filipino crown after dominating Game 3

F2 Logistics downs Foton in a do-or-die Game 3 behind standout performances of Ara Galang and Mika Reyes

CIG Signal HD Spikers Cherry May Vivas (hidden) and Jeanette Pananga try to deflect a kill by F2 Logistics star Ara Galang in the PSL All-Filipino Conference yesterday at The Arena in San Juan.

F2 Logistics holds off Signal in PSL opener

By JOEY VILLAR

Games Tuesday (The Arena, San Juan)
 4 p.m. — Generika vs Standard-Navy
 6 p.m. — RC Cola-Army vs Amy's Kitchen-Perpetual

F2 Logistics drew strength from its talented La Salle recruits as it overpowered Signal, 25-12, 23-25, 20-25, 25-11, yesterday to jumpstart its title bid in the 2016 Philippine Superliga All-Filipino Conference at The Arena in San Juan.

Ara Galang, Mika Reyes, Kim Fajardo, Majoy Baron, Kianne Dy and Dawn Macandili, who were vital cogs of La Salle's UAAP title conquest of Ateneo last May, all played critical roles in helping the Cargo Movers nail their first victory.

Galang, who was picked first overall in the rookie draft early in the month, debuted with 11 hits, while Reyes chipped in nine.

Fajardo had a superb all-around effort as she finished with 29 excellent sets and scored nine hits, including a match-best four on service aces and two on blocks while Baron and Dy chipped in some key points in supporting roles.

Macandili made a good account of herself as a libero and held her own in all four sets.

"I'm blessed with many good talents," said F2 Logistics coach Ramil de Jesus.

Abi Marano and Paneng Mercado, both former La Salle stars themselves but in an older batch, led the way with 17 and 11 hits, respectively.

So good were the La Salle rookies that F2 Logistics captain Cha Cruz was limited to just a point in two sets.

Cherry Mae Vivas led the HD Spikers with 13 points while Janeatte Panaga, the reigning NCAA Finals MVP who helped St. Benilde win the NCAA title, added nine including four blocks.

But Signal, coached by Sammy Acaylar, just had no match to F2 Logistics' star power.

In the other game, Petron overpowered Foton, 25-19, 25-17, 25-21, to set in motion its title-retention bid.

Aiza Maizo-Pontillas unloaded a game-best 17 hits including 15 off attacks as the Tri-Active Spikers, last year's winners, beat the Tornados, the Grand Prix titlists, in the showdown of last year's champions.

SBP to review eligibility rule

By JOAQUIN HENSON
Submitted photo of his Filipino lineage to FIBA but a decision on his eligibility as a local remains on hold, likely because he's a high-profile NBA player. The consensus is that Clarkson and Blatche played together with Glas at the FIBA Asia Championships in Changsha last year. It would be the Philippines' first time representing Asia at the Rio Olympics.

Philippine SBP vice chairman and former Rep. Robbie Tan will lead a review of the FIBA eligibility rule. There are Filipino-troopers with Philippine passports and un-questioned Filipino lineage willing to play for Glas but they're not allowed to because their passports were issued after winning the Grand Prix last year. The Cargo Movers drew first blood by winning Game 1 in five sets before faltering with a four-set loss in Game 2 as the stage for the rubber match. Although F2 Logistics struggled the early going in Jia Santos' Cherry Rindina and JJ Laure hounded and pointed it from the attack. Zouzo Cargo Movers bounced back to equalize in the second set.

F2 Logistics clips Foton, bags PSL title

By Marc Anthony Reyes

F2 LOGISTICS overcame Foton with a high-contrast performance to capture the Philippine Superliga (PSL) Conference championship last night.

With volleyball excitement, competing edge and girls were cut high, the Cargo Movers scored in 15-25, 25-15, 25-21, 25-19 to wrap up the best of three title series.

Covering an incident from the pattern of PSL's 17th season, F2 Logistics' victory was the first in the series to be won by a newly discovered team. Foton, that could not be taking it.

"My biggest desire is to win," said F2 Logistics coach Ramil de Jesus. "We had a great series and from made to play to our best."

The Tornados, who were a 12-point deficit in the first set, were able to come back and win the match. Foton's Jaja Santiago, who was named as the Most Valuable Player of the tournament, was also the architect of the team's victory.

F2 Logistics claims crown

By Kristel Batmangia

F2 Logistics completed its most perfect campaign with a bang after defeating Foton, 15-25, 25-15, 25-21, 25-19, last night to capture the Philippine Superliga (PSL) Conference title before a big crowd at The Arena in San Juan City.

Drawing big performances from Alex Galang, Aly Marana, Kim Dy, and Mika Reyes, the Cargo Movers recovered from dropping the opening set on their way to winning the title in just their first major tournament in the last 10 years.

F2 took the final set 25-15, 25-15, 25-15, last Thursday, but was denied of a title celebration two days later after Foton forced a rubber match, 25-18, 17-25, 25-15, 18-25.

Jaja Santiago finished with 20 points in 14 kills, four blocks and two aces for Foton, which failed in its bid to join Army and Foton as the only teams to win two PSL titles.

Dy and Marana conspired to give F2 a 4-4 lead in the fourth set. Foton, however, refused to give up easily behind Mika Reyes, Cherry Bordonio, and Santiago with their powerful spikes to capture the title.

Game 1: Phoenix vs Tanduvay

F2 Logistics champ!

By Kristel Batmangia

F2 Logistics ended its maiden campaign with a bang after defeating Foton, 15-25, 25-15, 25-21, 25-19, last night to capture the Philippine Superliga (PSL) Conference title at The Arena in San Juan City.

Alex Galang, Aly Marana, Kim Dy, and Mika Reyes took charge when F2 Logistics needed to come back from losing the first set in the deciding game of the best-of-three series.

F2 Logistics' victory was a 12-point deficit in the first set, were able to come back and win the match. Foton's Jaja Santiago, who was named as the Most Valuable Player of the tournament, was also the architect of the team's victory.

No Jaja, no worry

National University overpowered Perpetual Help even without Jaja Santiago, posting a 25-15, 25-25, 25-16, 25-22 victory to join the Season 13 College Conference of the Philippines (CCP) in the second round of the tournament.

Perpetual Help's Dava and Alvin took charge for the Bulldogs, combining for 20 points, while Jaja backed them up with 12 points and Jettie before ended 15 minutes.

The Cargo Movers won all seven games of the first round, finished second behind the Tornados in the championship, leading to the title.
